

FEBRUARY 2021

THE WORLD OF INTERIORS

POLIAKOFF IN PARIS
Gallerist's Left Bank flat steeped in émigré Modernism

THE SISTINE CHAPEL

In life-size detail and without the crowds

network

Sophia Salaman chooses the best merchandise and events worldwide

Ginori 1735's 'Perroquets' collection is inspired by botanical folios found in historical manuscripts in the company's extensive archive. With the aid of coloured soils and powders, each vase is entirely decorated by hand using airbrush, tracing and threading techniques on a white ceramic vase. Visit ginori1735.com.

Arte's 'Cameo' collection features non-woven wallcoverings that celebrate imperfect beauty. Drawing on natural materials, from raffia to sisal and stone to wood, the eight designs share a palette of neutrals, nudes and earthy tones. Arte, Design Centre Chelsea Harbour, London SW10 (0800 500 3335; arte-international.com).

This winter the paint company Little Greene opens a new showroom in north London, adding to a portfolio of sites in Marylebone, Notting Hill and Chelsea. The walls of the intimate boutique in Islington showcase the firm's rich and earthy 'Yellow-Pink' colour. Little Greene, 46 Cross St, London N1 (020 3762 5620; littlegreene.com).

Drummonds has collaborated with interior designer Susie Atkinson on the brand-new 'Whitewater' tub. A fresh take on the traditional cast-iron slipper bath, it has an elegant silhouette, pretty tapered feet and contoured sides with a gentle raised lip. Drummonds, 642 King's Rd, London SW6 (020 7376 4499; drummonds-uk.com).

Inspired by the golden age of travel and mid-20th-century style, Martin Kemp has designed the 'Corvair' collection for the bathroom company THG. He looked to everything from the Orient Express to features on classic 'streamlined' 1950s cars such as the Cadillac and Chevrolet. THG, 4 Pont St, London SW1 (020 7838 7788; thg-paris.com) ■